ABSTRACT

This research question is of the discussion delivers relations of with the unemployment rate, inference of by way of the Okun coefficient and the literature and the logical, discovered that both the relations have the negative relations. In addition, this research integrates the capital storage quantity and the work employment quantity lists as the independent variable. And by Taiwan, Philippine, Malaysian, the Singapore country, discusses regarding delivers the influence. This research picks the empirical study way, mainly penetrates the Eviews statistics coverall software execution. The result this research discovery, the unemployment rate has the remarkable negative relations; The related capital storage quantity and the work employment quantity part has not won the support. According to the findings, this research proposed that further discusses and puts forward the proposal to the following research.

Keywords : economic growth、unemployment rate

