ABSTRACT

As LCD may replace the mechanic-type display in the instrumental panel, fundamental question such as what kind of display layout will be preferred by users, still needs to be answered. After collecting more than 120 instrument panels and putting them into ten categories a questionnaire survey was made to select the best display layout and best meter tics. Survey was also made to select the items to be displayed according to their importance. Based on survey results two design proposals were presented.

Keywords : automotive, Instrument panel, Display, Layout

Table of Contents

一、中文部分
二、英文部分
三、網路部份