ABSTRACT

Light is the soul of an oil painting. It moves around on the painting, which not only makes the colorful subject filled of energy, but also gives the oil painting life. This thesis mentions the basic theory of light and color. The author compares the observation and development of light from the eastern and the western view. Besides, this thesis discusses how the light is used in oil painting and architecture. The author absorbs the knowledge and uses it in his creations. In order to get the perfect works, he tries different styles and modifies all the time. Travelling is the best way to acquire creative ideas. Through visiting famous scenery, painters open their mind to get the new inspiration. In this thesis, each work is full of the author 's emotion. The author mentioned his trip to Monet 's garden. When watching the water-lilies pond, he seemed to stand inside Monet 's painting. What a marvelous experience it is! This thesis records the author 's steps of chasing the light and shadows, from Taiwan to France and from Italy to Greece. He spent a lot of time researching Monet and Vincent. In order to look for the wonderful light and shadows, he also travelled to China, Japan, Indonesia and so on. Each trip means a change of life. The author wants to share the affections through discussing his oil painting creations. Hope people can learn how to appreciate beauty. At the same time, the author can improve his painting ability and achieve his goal.
